A BUNCH OF BUNNIES FOR THE GIRL'S ROOM

Inspired by an affinity for bunnies, Susan Bloom, of Susan Bloom Ltd., in Locust Valley, tucked a variety of whimsical rabbits throughout the young girl's bedroom. She creatively tacked a plush bunny in a frame on the wall, acces-sorized the room with bunny statues, and found a bunny accent fabric.

"The ultra feminine bedroom mixes more sophisticated furnishings with childhood favorites that girls don't want to let go of," Bloom stated. "I chose a full-size Louis XVI bed and armoire because they're stunning. The mirrored armoire gives a lot of storage for a young woman's wardrobe."

A ceiling of soft, light aqua blue and walls covered in creamy yellow evoke a feeling of sublime tranquility. Hand-painted wooden drapery rods and finials pick up the aqua theme in the room. Chair rail and moldings add architectural interest. All this is anchored with a rich vegetable-dyed Kermanshah area rug.

EXTENDED SUMMER

Step outside Bailey Manor on a cool autumn evening and relax by a crackling fire in the beautiful custom stone and block fireplace. Giovanni Cipriano, of Hort Couture, in Northport, created a formal outdoor terrace, including two formal features. "I designed two formal water features.
